

Ready for Movement Pre-Exercise Screening: Your Movement, Comfort & Support Needs

Do you have any past injuries, current conditions, occasional or chronic pain, or a body area that just isn't 100% that may affect how you move during sessions or recover afterward? (Select all that apply) ∨

No diagnosis required—just let us know anything that might affect how you move or recover.

Please note: We will ask about disability, other conditions, or other factors that may be relevant in a separate question.

- ☐ Previous injury (Fully recovered, but worth noting)
- ☐ Previous injury (may cause occasional discomfort or limitation)
- ☐ Current injury (e.g., sprain, strain, tear, fracture etc)
- ☐ No issues — I do not have any injuries, pain, or areas that aren't 100%
- ☐ Chronic condition or pain
- ☐ Something else? (Please specify)

Triggers for Flare Up #2 ▾

Please provide relevant details about the issue, including what it is, which movements aggravate it, anything that tends to trigger flare-ups, how you currently manage it, and whether you have previously done or are currently doing physiotherapy *

Your response helps us understand any known limitations and plan appropriate modifications or alternative options (such as 1:1 sessions) to support your safety during training. We will only ask you to engage with a relevant health professional if this is necessary to ensure safe participation.

e.g., My wrist doesn't love weight-bearing or pushing movements, but it's not injured. / I've noticed my hip feels off and aches more when rain is coming or during weather changes. / Had MPFL reconstruction on my right knee about 7 years ago and haven't had any issues since. I've got patella alta in both knees, and my left knee has dislocated a handful of times, but I manage it with a brace and the physio exercises I was given.
